<sup>1</sup>A valid support and maintenance contract is required to use LimitState:RING

Network Licenses

Network licenses are available on supported Local Area Networks as follows (as percentages of the above prices):

1 User license:- 110%, 2 User license:- 175% , 5 User license:- 325%

Network Users may be transferred to standalone machines for short periods.

Network Upgrades

Standalone licenses may be upgraded to network licenses for the difference in license fees.

Discounting Policy

We have a policy of offering discounts to sole traders and to international customers whose head office and principal business is in a country with a low GDP per capita. Details are available on request.

Dongles

The license, when installed on a standalone computer, is not transferable. An optional USB dongle is available that permits the license to run on any standalone machine at the same site with the dongle attached. The cost of a dongle is 5% of the list price of the software. It is emphasized that the license resides on the dongle, and so its replacement cost is the original cost plus the value of the unexpired period of maintenance remaining on the current license.

Annual Maintenance and Support

Annual maintenance and support is a prerequisite. The first 6 months is included with the initial license cost, after which the charge is 20% of the list price (exclusive of any promotional discounts) for the subsequent 12 month period.

Academic Licenses

LimitState is committed to providing University researchers, teachers and students with easy access to its state-of-the-art software. For further details see: www.limitstate.com/academic

Leased Licenses

Leased licenses are available to meet short-term needs, and include full support and maintenance for the duration of the license but have a fixed term and are non-convertible. A short term leased license cannot be converted into a longer term leased licenses, or into a renewable license.
